

Diabetic Foot Pre-Ulcer

The callus with subcutaneous hemorrhage on the tip of the third digit with its claw-toe deformity is an example of a diabetic foot pre-ulcer. This lesion is high risk for ulcer formation and infection, leading to osteomyelitis and amputation.