

Sickle cells

Sickle cells are the result of hemoglobin S heterotetramers polymerizing to form fibrils, causing red blood cells to sickle and hemolyze.