

Cervical Warts

Cervical warts are more easily seen following the application of dilute acetic acid (vinegar solution). Cervical warts are caused by HPV infection which is responsible for cervical dysplasia and squamous cell cancers of the cervix.

Reproduced with permission from: JHPIEGO. 1999. Atlas of Visual Inspection of the Cervix with Acetic Acid (VIA). JHPIEGO: Baltimore, MD. Copyright © by JHPIEGO, an affiliate of The Johns Hopkins University. All rights reserved. Slides contributed by Paul Blumenthal, EngenderHealth/Thomas Wright, and Francisco Garcia.