

Trapped Lung

A trapped lung is an unexpandable lung due to visceral pleural restriction. It may be the result of malignant disease or an inflammatory condition. This x-ray shows an unexpanded left lung as evidence by the easily visible visceral pleural markings that are located between the chest wall and the mediastinum.