

Gottron's Papules

This patient has Gottron's sign consisting of violaceous to dusky-pink flat-topped papules or plaques with slight scaling. Gottron's sign is associated with dermatomyositis and most commonly develops over the extensor surface of the metacarpophalangeal and interphalangeal joints and the dorsal aspect of the wrists, elbows, and knees.