

Dear Colleague:

The ACP West Virginia Chapter is accepting nominations for the 2008 West Virginia Chapter Awards. The West Virginia Chapter would like to invite you to nominate members whom you believe exemplify the high standards of the American College of Physicians and meet the other qualifications of these awards. There are two awards for which we are asking you to consider candidates.

The first award is the West Virginia Laureate Award, which recognizes Masters or Fellows of the Chapter who have influenced the medical profession through research, teaching, and/or patient care.

The second award is the West Virginia Volunteerism and Community Service Award, which recognizes Members, Fellows, or Masters of the Chapter who are involved in volunteerism and community service activities.

For a complete list of the awards criteria and a listing of past recipients of these distinguished awards, please visit the Chapter's Web site at http://www.acponline.org/about_acp/chapters/wv/about.htm

Your nominations are important to us. Please send us your recommendations for these awards no later than July 31, 2008 by emailing Charles Turner, MD, FACP, ACP West Virginia Governor directly at roswic@comcast.net.

The recipients of the 2008 West Virginia Chapter Awards will be recognized at the chapter meeting.

Sincerely,
Charles Turner, MD, FACP
Chapter Governor, ACP West Virginia Chapter
