

Appropriate Antibiotic Use for Acute Respiratory Tract Infection in Adults: Advice for High-Value Care From the American College of Physicians and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (2016)

High Value Care Task Force paper from the American College of Physicians and for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to present best practices for antibiotic use in healthy adults (those without chronic lung disease or immunocompromising conditions) presenting with acute respiratory tract infection (ARTI).

Annals of Intern Medicine full text: <http://www.annals.org/article.aspx?doi=10.7326/M15-1840>

Read Summary for Patients: <http://www.annals.org/article.aspx?doi=10.7326/P16-9009>