

Climate Change and Health: A Position Paper of the American College of Physicians (2016)

A Position Paper from the American College of Physicians recommending that physicians and the broader health care community throughout the world engage in environmentally sustainable practices that reduce carbon emissions; support efforts to mitigate and adapt to the effects of climate change; and educate the public, their colleagues, their community, and lawmakers about the health risks posed by climate change. Tackling climate change is an opportunity to dramatically improve human health and avert dire environmental outcomes, and ACP believes that physicians can play a role in achieving this goal.

Annals of Intern Medicine full text:

<http://www.annals.org/article.aspx?doi=10.7326/M15-2766>