
A position paper from the American College of Physicians that offers public policy recommendations regarding the prevention and treatment of substance use disorders involving illicit and prescription drugs.