

Pay for Performance Through the Lens of Medical Professionalism

To accomplish this assessment of the compatibility of pay for performance (P4P) with professionalism, the American College of Physicians convened an advisory board of experts in clinical medicine, law, management, and health policy at 6 in-person meetings, during which it conducted a detailed examination of the relationship between medical professionalism and P4P incentive programs and used the Charter on Medical Professionalism as the framework for the analysis.

Ann Intern Med.* 2010;152(6):366-369. Read full text: <http://annals.org/article.aspx?articleid=745669>