

Reproductive Health Policy in the United States: An ACP Policy Brief (2023)

In this position paper, the American College of Physicians details new recommendations to protect patient access to care through the freedom to travel to seek medical care, the ability to receive prescription medication in the mail or via other shipping and delivery services, and to oppose efforts to criminalize the practice of medicine and restrict access to care.

Annals of Internal Medicine full text: <https://www.acpjournals.org/doi/10.7326/M22-3316>