

North Carolina Chapter-ACP
2027 Annual Scientific Session
Resident and Medical Student Poster Competition
Submission Deadline: December 1, 2026

The online submission portal is now available to submit your abstract for the 2027 resident/fellow and medical student Poster Competition.

This is an excellent educational opportunity and a great way to showcase your work. Winners in each category (Clinical or Basic Research, Clinical Vignette, Quality Improvement, High Value Care, and Student) will receive a cash award of $300 and reimbursement of travel expenses (up to $1000) to present their poster at the ACP Internal Medicine Meeting 2027 in Los Angeles, CA on April 15-17. The winner of Best Overall Poster should be one of the category winners and will also receive an additional cash award.

First authors of the posters must be members of ACP or have made official application for membership to enter this competition. Each abstract will undergo careful review and will be ranked for scientific merit, originality, proper presentation, and clinical application.
