Aiming for Better: Conversations on Firearm Injury Prevention and Care

Presented By: American College of Physicians, Wisconsin Chapter; Wisconsin Academy of Family Practice; Wisconsin Chapter of the American College of Emergency Physicians

This session will review strategies to identify people at risk of firearm injury; practical tools to begin conversations on firearms in daily patient care and community roles; and consensus strategies on firearm injury prevention. Death and injury by firearm are among the top causes of morbidity and premature mortality in the United States. Firearm injuries affect not only the injured person, but also their families and communities, creating enormous economic, social, and health harms. These harms are inequitably distributed, with larger burdens found in communities experiencing poverty, low resource availability, and higher rates of violence. Physicians are uniquely positioned to identify and help reduce risks and harms associated with firearms through patient care, education, and advocacy.
