Who We Are

For more than 100 years, ACP has represented the global house of internal medicine. Although we may practice in widely different settings, focus our expertise in a specific subspecialty, or take on different research or administrative activities, we are all internists. Our shared core training and values unite us.

The global pandemic has shown the importance of coming together as a community to stay abreast of the latest clinical information, care for our patients, and support one another. As internal medicine physicians, and as a group, we are part of something bigger. We comprise 161,000 members worldwide—including 23,000 internationally—and are led by physicians who, like you, are lifelong practitioners and learners who strive to deliver excellent patient care and exemplify leadership in everything they do.

From medical school and residency to active practice and retirement, we are committed to helping one another succeed. We respond and adapt quickly to the changing needs of the internal medicine landscape and offer a wide range of resources to support and enhance your professional experience.

Join ACP's global community of internists today for a wealth of valuable resources and lifelong learning.
