

American College of Physicians
Leading Internal Medicine, Improving Lives

MEMBERSHIP for International Physicians

Mission and Goals

The American College of Physicians, founded in 1915

Mission

To enhance the quality and effectiveness of health care by fostering excellence and professionalism in the practice of medicine.

Goals

- I. To establish and promote the highest clinical standards and ethical ideals;
- II. To be the foremost comprehensive education and information resource for all internists;
- III. To advocate responsible positions on individual health and on public policy relating to health care for the benefit of the public, our patients, the medical profession, and our members;
- IV. To serve the professional needs of the membership, support healthy lives for physicians, and advance internal medicine as a career;
- V. To promote and conduct research to enhance the quality of practice, the education and continuing education of internists, and the attractiveness of internal medicine to physicians and the public;
- VI. To recognize excellence and distinguished contributions to internal medicine; and
- VII. To unify the many voices of internal medicine and its subspecialties for the benefit of our patients, our members, and our profession.

Improving the Practice of Internal Medicine

"Members take pride in knowing that ACP's products and services are considered the gold standard of internal medicine."

*Wendy Levinson, MD, FACP Chair,
ACP International Council*

Dear Colleague:

Thank you for your interest in joining the American College of Physicians (ACP). Membership in ACP is something to be proud of and an important part of your professional and educational growth.

ACP is the largest medical specialty society in the world with 143,000 members, including more than 13,000 members from over 140 countries outside the US—all united in their commitment to the highest degree of professionalism and ethics in the practice of medicine for the benefit of patients in the global community.

Our international activities are growing each year. This year, College representatives will visit approximately 15 countries to speak at various conferences and institutions hosted by national or regional medical societies or international organizations. Through ACP's various international outreach programs, physicians will present on topics requested by the host, and meet with leaders of internal medicine, practicing physicians, residents, and medical students.

Thank you for your interest in joining the American College of Physicians.

Sincerely,

Wendy Levinson, MD, FACP
Chair, ACP International Council

There are currently more than 13,000 ACP international members from over 140 countries around the world.

International Chapters and Collaborations

Through involvement in local and regional chapters and collaborations with existing national societies, ACP members receive additional opportunities that can enhance their career in internal medicine. The chapter structure offers networking opportunities, input into College affairs and policies depending on membership status, and the potential for leadership development.

Current International Chapters

Canada: Alberta, Atlantic Provinces, British Columbia, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, Ontario, Quebec

Latin America: Brazil, Central America, Chile, Colombia, Mexico, Venezuela

Other International Chapters: Bangladesh, Caribbean, Gulf (currently, Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, United Arab Emirates), Japan, India, Saudi Arabia, Southeast Asia (currently, Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand)

Fellowship

ACP Fellowship is an honor achieved by physicians recognized by peers for personal integrity, superior competence in internal medicine, professional accomplishment, and demonstrated scholarship.

FACP® is a title of honor and prestige in the worldwide internal medicine community.

International Council

The 12-member council is the voice of ACP's international members and represents their interests.

How ACP supports Ethics and Professionalism in Medicine

ACP members should be familiar with, and are expected to uphold, the ethics of medicine as exemplified by the standards and traditions of ACP. Ethical complaints against members are reviewed in accordance with the standards as described in ACP's Ethics Manual, which can be downloaded from ACP Online.

www.acponline.org/ethicsmanual

ACP Pledge

"Medicine recognizes no frontiers. There is a universal appeal to help the sick and the suffering, and physicians are well prepared to professionally assume that task. Collaboration is one of the ethical duties of physicians. ACP has a wealth of resources, publications, and educational materials from which all internists could benefit, no matter where they are located. The problems that internal medicine faces are very similar around the world, and ACP is in a good position to provide a forum where international internists can convene to discuss their problems and solutions."
