

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JACQUELINE WINFIELD FINCHER, MD, MACP, NAMED PRESIDENT-ELECT OF NATIONAL DOCTORS' GROUP

Philadelphia (April 2019) — Jacqueline Winfield Fincher, MD, MACP, has been named President-elect of the American College of Physicians (ACP), the national organization of Internal Medicine specialists. . Her term began during Internal Medicine Meeting 2019, ACP's annual scientific meeting held in Philadelphia April 11-13.

A resident of Thomson, Ga., Dr. Fincher is a Partner at Center for Primary Care – McDuffie Medical in Thomson, where she has practiced medicine since 1988. She is Chair of ACP's Medical Practice and Quality Committee. She has served on ACP's Board of Regents since 2015, and was Governor of ACP's Georgia Chapter from 2011-2015. She became a Master (MACP) of the American College of Physicians in 2011. Election to Mastership recognizes outstanding and extraordinary career accomplishments in the practice of medicine.

Board certified in internal medicine, Dr. Fincher earned a bachelor's degree from Oral Roberts University and a medical degree from Medical College of Georgia. She completed her internship and residency training at Medical College of Georgia, (now Augusta University).

About the American College of Physicians

The American College of Physicians is the largest medical specialty organization in the United States with members in more than 145 countries worldwide. ACP membership includes 154,000 internal medicine physicians (internists), related subspecialists, and medical students. Internal medicine physicians are specialists who apply scientific knowledge and clinical expertise to the diagnosis, treatment, and compassionate care of adults across the spectrum from health to complex illness. Follow ACP on Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram.