2019 Advocacy Day at the Georgia Capitol
On Feb. 28, 2019, Georgia Chapter ACP Members aligned with members of the Patient Centered Physician Coalition Day at the Georgia Capitol. The coalition represents over 10,000 primary care physician members collectively. Georgia Governor, the Honorable Brian Kemp welcomed the Coalition to the capitol. Blake Fulenwider, Chief Health Policy Officer, Georgia DCH, gave an update from the Georgia Department of Community Health. Members met with their respective senator and/or representative to advocate for a closing the coverage gap with a Georgia Waiver and on tax credits for community preceptors. The Internal Medicine Advocates in attendance were making a difference for patients and physicians in Georgia.

Why the promise of electronic health records has gone unfulfilled

Georgia Public Broadcasting
A decade ago, the U.S. government claimed that ditching paper medical charts for electronic records would make healthcare better, safer and cheaper. Ten years and $36 billion later, the digital revolution has gone awry, an investigation by Kaiser Health News and Fortune magazine has found. READ MORE
