

Congratulations to this year's abstract competition winners!

Many thanks to all who presented and judged for making this year's competition a success!

Category	Author	Title
Resident Research, First Place	Young Soo Rho	Associated Factors and Survival Implications of Biopsy Diagnosis of Hepatocellular Carcinoma
Resident Research, Second Place	Diana Kim	Successful Aging: The Study of Frailty in Kaiser Permanente Hawaii Kai Clinic Seniors Using the FRAIL Scale
Resident Research, Third Place	Tomoki Sempokuya	Descriptive Study of Hospital Onset C. difficile infection at The Queen's Medical Center: Quality Improvement Project
Student Research, First Place	Andrew Pham	Distinction between mitophagy and ferroptosis in cardiomyocytes
Student Research, Second Place	Jonathan Huang	Characterizing Patterns Of Lipid Reactive Oxygen Species-Induced Cell Death Of In Vitro Cardiomyocytes
Student Research, Third Place	Kalei R.J. Hosaka	Geriatric Syndromes and Inflammation in Older HIV-infected Adults with Cognitive Impairment
Top Resident Case Study	Amanda Wiggins	Arrhythmogenic Right Ventricular Cardiomyopathy Unmasked by Impending Thyroid Storm
Top Student Case Study	Gavin Ha	Mitral Annular Calcification causing Mitral Stenosis
Top Fellow Presentation	Megan Chock	Handgrip strength in late life predicts future functional impairment: The Kuakini Honolulu-Asia Aging Study