Women's Breakfast Discussion Topic:

“CNP, APRN, APNP, PA, MD... Implications of evolving language of the PCP”

Colleagues--

Please join us for a complimentary breakfast at the MNACP Minnesota Internal Medicine:2016 on Friday October 28th at 7am at the Minneapolis Convention Center. All are welcome! Breakfast is available at 7am on the Mezz level (down one level from main floor Room Mezz 101). We will discuss the topic of “CNP, APRN, APNP, PA, MD... Implications of evolving language of the "PCP". Please review the following short articles/blog on this topic including:

- The Myth of the Fillers and Extenders: Let Us Clarify the Role of Nurse Practitioners http://www.professionalnursing.org/article/S8755-7223\(11\)00038-X/abstract00038-X/abstract)
- a blog from the NYTimes.http://well.blogs.nytimes.com/2011/12/29/the-provider-will-see-you-now/?_r=0
- The New Language of Medicine <http://www.nejm.org/doi/full/10.1056/NEJMp1107278> or

Part-timers and full timers, all women and all internists are welcome! Come for just the breakfast or stay for the Minnesota Internal Medicines:2016 meeting that begins at 7:55am on Oct. 28th at the Minneapolis Convention Center and features national and Minnesota speakers. We expect over 350 internists, APRNs, residents and medical students to attend this annual event.

Registration for any of these sessions or for the pre-course sessions is at http://www.acponline.org/about_acp/chapters/mn/news_meet.htm To RSVP for only the Women's breakfast email Minnesota.ACP@gmail.com

I would also be happy to answer any questions you may have about ACP and Minnesota-ACP by emailing me at berry022@umn.edu
