ACP Innovation Challenge 2019: Fostering Partnerships between Physicians and Patients

Are you an innovator in healthcare? Do you have a project idea that fosters partnerships between physicians and patients? If so, ACP wants you to enter the ACP Innovation Challenge!

ACP Internal Medicine Meeting 2019, being held April 11-13 in Philadelphia, PA, will be hosting the third “Shark Tank”- styled competition where finalists will present their projects to a distinguished panel of judges in front of a live audience. Project ideas may be submitted by ACP physician, resident/fellow, or medical student members, and should focus on fostering partnerships between physicians and patients.

A Grand Prize winner will receive $20,000 in funding for project development and an Audience Choice prize of $5,000 will also be awarded. All finalists are eligible to receive complimentary meeting registration and travel funds to attend ACP Internal Medicine Meeting 2019.

For additional information and to submit an application by the November 30, 2018 deadline, click here.

Please note participation in the ACP Innovation Challenge is open to ACP members only.

To access the submission form, you must be signed in to ACP Online and be a member in good standing. If you currently are not an ACP member, join now.

Please feel free to distribute this information to anyone who may have a project eligible for submission. For questions regarding this event, contact ACP staff.

ACP Leadership Programs Available

In partnership with American Association for Physician Leadership, ACP offers a flexible, 18-month-long Certificate in Physician Leadership program. Participants may select the Hospital Medicine track or, beginning this July, the General Internal Medicine track.

The program includes a combination of formal training through 43.5 hours of webinar or live coursework, online group discussions facilitated by leaders in internal medicine, and a capstone project that will demonstrate successful mastery of leadership concepts.

Participants may apply online by December 1, 2018 to enroll in the cohorts that begin work in January 2019.

This program offers exclusive training by leadership experts and important career-building skills. In addition, ACP provides participants with access to a number of professional development and membership engagement opportunities.

Chapter Members In The News

LCDR Karen G. Zeman has been selected to represent the ACP in the Women's Wellness through Equity and Leadership project (WEL). She was chosen from more than 40 outstanding candidates from across the college.

The Women's Wellness through Equity and Leadership project (WEL) is a collaboration of six health care organizations: American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP), American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), American College of Physicians (ACP), American Congress of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG), American Psychiatric Association (APA), and American Hospital Association (AHA). This program is funded by The Physicians Foundation and will foster the development of the next wave of female physician leaders to build a healthier, more equitable work experience.

LT James D. Haddad was recently published in the New England Journal of Medicine. In a letter responding to a recent review on "Subclinical Hyperthyroidism," James described the potential interference of supplements containing biotin on many commonly used immunoassays.

Congratulations Karen and James!

Congratulations to new FACP's over the Past 6 Months
