Meeting Highlights

- Engaging Physicians in the Future of Health Care Delivery
- Clinical Guidelines: Where Do They Come From and How Should They Be Used?
- When to Call a Surgeon and What to Say When You Do
- Physician Well-Being in Modern Health Care
- Everything I Need to Know I Learned in Prison

Dear Colleague,

Join me and your colleagues in internal medicine at the next scientific meeting of the North Dakota Chapter of the American College of Physicians, being held October 5, 2018, at the Bismarck Event Center. We are joining the North Dakota Medical Association for a combined meeting.

The meeting is a great way for you to recharge, rewind, and reflect with your peers, chapter leaders, and great speakers. Connect with the North Dakota Chapter's rich source of knowledge content and networking by attending our premier meeting for general internists, subspecialty internists, hospitalists, allied health practitioners, residents, and medical students.

In addition to earning CME credits, this conference is about making personal contacts and getting involved in your chapter. You'll engage with people who know your challenges and can help you find solutions. The opportunities available at this meeting will help you meet not only your needs as a physician but also the needs of the patients you serve.

To ensure your place at this invaluable meeting, register now by visiting us online at ndchapter.acponline.org.

I look forward to seeing you in Bismarck.

Sincerely,

Neville Alberto, MD, FACP
ACP Governor, North Dakota Chapter

Resident/Fellow Members' and Medical Students' Activities

Posters prepared by Resident/Fellow Members and Medical Students will be presented on Wednesday, October 3, in Fargo and be on display at the meeting in Bismarck. Winners will be eligible for entrance into the national competition held during Internal Medicine Meeting 2019. Contact Carla Mosser at Carla.mosser@med.und.edu for information about entering the Resident/Fellow Members' Competition. Deadline for submissions is August 31, 2018.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this activity, the participant will be able to:

- Describe challenges facing physicians in the delivery of high-quality health care.
- Understand how guidelines are developed, including their strength and weaknesses.
- Discuss several common medical problems often considered “surgical” in nature, as well as when and how to involve a surgeon when diagnosing and treating them.
- Understand the burden of physician burnout, appreciate your personal risk of burnout, and identify strategies to promote professional well-being.

Who should attend?

- General internists
- Subspecialty internists
- Family practitioners
- Fellows in subspecialty training
- Hospitalists
- Residents
- Medical students interested in internal medicine

Chapter Awards

Chapter awards will be presented during the Awards Luncheon.

CME Accreditation and MOC Points

The American College of Physicians is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American College of Physicians designates this live activity for a maximum of 4.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Successful completion of this CME activity (the North Dakota Chapter Scientific Meeting), which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to earn up to 4.25 medical knowledge MOC points in the American Board of Internal Medicine's (ABIM) Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. It is the CME activity provider's responsibility to submit participant completion information to ACCME for the purpose of granting ABIM MOC credit.
