VACCINE HESITANCY AND THE RETURN OF VACCINE PREVENTABLE DISEASES

Join us for the November meeting of the First District Medical Society!
The First District Medical Society partnered with the North Dakota Chapter of the American College of Physicians for this program.

Dr. Paul Carson
Dr. Carson is an Infectious Disease specialist at Sanford Health Fargo. He is a Professor of Medicine at UND School of Medicine and Health Sciences, Professor at NDSU Department of Public Health, and Director of NDSU Center for Immunization Research and Education.

This session is made possible through generous support by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).
The session has been partially supported by funding from Merck & Co., Inc.
