

I am Stefany Hernandez along with Manisha Ravi and we are 3rd year medical student members of the ACP Ohio Women in Medicine committee. We are representing our committee to bring awareness to our incredible fundraising endeavor with the Columbus Chapter of *I Support the Girls that will be held at the ACP Scientific Meeting in Columbus! This organization helps local women and girls in need (at schools, shelters, etc) by supplying them with feminine health products that they would otherwise not have access to or be able to afford.

In order to help women across the city in need, please take some time to stop by their table at the conference to provide a monetary donation (either cash or electronically by following the link below) and participate in the period packing project to gather supplies together to send out into the community. Additionally, please consider donating any unused make-up, “free with purchase” cosmetic bags, as well as unused hotel toiletries at our table. These seemingly trivial items can make a world of difference to these young women, so please join us in supporting this cause during the upcoming 2019 ACP Scientific Meeting! We look forward to seeing you all in Columbus and our partnership with I Support the Girls to make a positive impact in the surrounding community!

I Support the Girls donation link: <http://bit.ly/ISTG-ACP>

Stefany Hernandez
M.D. Candidate 2021
University of Cincinnati College of Medicine

Manisha Ravi
M.D. Candidate 2021
The Ohio State University College of Medicine