LEADERSHIP DAY 2018

Are you interested in Advocacy and Public Health Policy? The American College of Physicians is holding Leadership Day in Washington DC this May. The meeting begins on May 22 at 8am with talks on issues concerning the practice of medicine. The second day consists of meeting with our elected representatives from West Virginia at the US Capitol, this lasts until mid-afternoon. Our chapter has set aside funds for travel grants to defray the costs of travel and lodging for a limited number of medical students and residents to attend this meeting. If interested please contact Lisa Hirschbach at jtdl502@comcast.net.

Leadership Day is the College's annual two-day advocacy event in Washington, DC that enables our members from across the country to bring our issues of concern to U.S. lawmakers. This is a great opportunity for the College and our members to bring our policy priorities to Congress and try to influence the legislative process on behalf of internal medicine.

How can you benefit from Leadership Day?

In addition to having an opportunity to meet with your legislators and staff in Washington, DC, participants are provided with in-depth briefings from White House officials, Capitol Hill staffers, and members of Congress; all of whom are among the top health care decision makers.

Participants will also:

- Receive a comprehensive orientation on ACP's top legislative priorities.
- Earn Continuing Medical Education (CME) credits.
- Learn advocacy skills that can be utilized back home.
- Meet other internists who care about advocacy, including colleagues from your own state.
- Learn about policy issues that impact your profession and your ability to provide quality care.
- Get to know ACP leaders and staff.
- Socialize and have a great time.
