ACP supports this measure because it includes appropriate exclusions for "medical risk for not prescribing warfarin" and there is evidence that there is a major practice gap that places patients at risk.

Date Reviewed: November 7, 2015