

Performance Measure Review

ACP does not support this measure because it could lead to cherry picking of patients and would require careful risk-adjustment, more so than what is currently included in the measure. The measure may act as a proxy for complications and care coordination. Furthermore, there is evidence indicating CMS' current risk-adjustment factors are inadequate.

Date Reviewed: November 7, 2015