Requirements for ACP Fellowship:

ACP Fellowship is an honor achieved by those recognized by their peers for personal integrity, superior competence in internal medicine, professional accomplishment, and demonstrated scholarship. FACP is achieved by advancing from ACP membership or, in exceptional cases, by direct election.

Basic requirements for advancement to Fellowship:

- ACP membership in good standing for three years post residency training.
- Three years prior consecutive paid membership (as a Resident/Fellow or full Member).
- Certification in internal medicine or neurology.
- Professional activity in internal medicine, a combined internal medicine specialty, the subspecialties of internal medicine, or neurology.
- Experience in practice or in an academic position (including subspecialty training) for three years (tentatively) since the completion of residency.
- An active medical license in good standing (if in clinical practice).
- Continuing professional development and scholarly activities, including continuing medical education as a student or teacher.
- Teaching (institutional and community-based), hospital committee work, or volunteer and community service, especially in the voluntary provision of medical care.

In addition to the basic requirements, candidates for advancement to Fellowship should demonstrate activity within one or several of the following areas of professional accomplishment:

- Continuing Education
 - Subspecialty certification; recertification; advanced degrees, or MKSAP completion
- Active ACP Participation
 - Attendance at chapter/national meetings; abstract competition judging; MKSAP or exam question review, or committee/council participation.
- Publications
 - Articles; abstracts, book chapters, books, or online media
- Leadership
 - Medical director, committee chair, or working group responsible party
