

Residents and Fellows-in-training – GET INVOLVED IN ACP

Council of Resident/Fellow Members Call for Nominations

The American College of Physicians (ACP) strives to represent the diversity within the residents and fellows in training member population in filling open seats on the Council of Resident/Fellow Members (CRFM). The CRFM is responsible for responding to requests from the Board of Regents, committees and staff for review of programs, products and services, and advising the Board of Regents and Board of Governors on:

- Enhancing the quality of internal medicine postgraduate training
- Increasing the value of membership among Resident/Fellow Member members
- Strengthening chapter level activities and relationships at residency/fellowship training programs
- Aligning council activities with the College's Priority Themes

To be eligible to run for a seat on the CRFM you must be an ACP Resident/Fellow member in good standing.

To be an effective council member you must commit to:

- Serving a two-year term beginning at the conclusion of the May 2021 Annual Business Meeting and Town Hall, traditionally held during ACP's Internal Medicine Meeting.
- Participating in ACP Internal Medicine Meetings during your term including attendance at CRFM meetings and facilitation of resident/fellow activities, as appropriate, during the meeting. ACP Internal Medicine Meeting 2021 is scheduled to be held in Orlando, FL from April 29-May 1.
- Traveling to Philadelphia once each year, as appropriate, for a council meeting and participating in several additional virtual meetings. The CRFM in-person meeting is typically held in late September. Due to the current COVID-19 pandemic decisions about whether meetings will be held in-person or virtually will be made at a later date.
- Possibly serving as the resident/fellow member representative on a College committee. Serving on a committee will require at least one additional trip to Philadelphia or Washington, D.C.
- Spending approximately 1-2 hours monthly on council activities.
- Adhering to ACP's Disclosure of Interest and Management of Conflicts Policy and disclosing any relevant interests via the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) CONVEY system for council participation.

Open Seats: The council has multiple seats to fill for this election cycle. If you are interested in running for an open seat and meet the eligibility requirements of a Resident/Fellow Member as outlined, please follow the submission instructions below.

How to Apply:

Nomination materials must be submitted via e-mail to acpgovernance@acponline.org no later than November 1, 2020.

The council candidate application package should include:

- Curriculum Vitae
- The candidate's answers to the following questions (250 word limit for each question):
 1. Why do you want to be a member of the CRFM? Describe specific skills that you will bring to the council and how you would apply them to benefit the council.
 2. What is an example of an experience or situation where you had to demonstrate effective leadership?
 3. If selected for the council, about what advocacy issue would you be most passionate?
- One letter of support. Only one letter will be considered per candidate. This letter should be from a faculty member who knows you well and can speak strongly to your interest in ACP and joining the national council. Further weight will be given to a letter from an ACP Member, especially one with an ACP leadership position (i.e., ACP Fellow, ACP Chapter Governor, and/or ACP Regent). If a candidate obtains more than one letter of support, the candidate will be asked to select one for submission.

The council will conduct elections in December taking into consideration all aspects of diversity as well as each candidate's leadership/work experience, ACP involvement and potential contributions to the council, and candidates will be notified of the results by the end of December. Questions regarding the elections should be sent to ACP staff at acpgovernance@acponline.org.
